

RTS Washington History & Hope Church Lecture Series

To mark 30 years of serving the church in the nation's capital, Reformed Theological Seminary Washington, D.C., announces the History & Hope Church Lecture Series for the 2024-25 academic year. For three decades, RTS Washington has worked closely with multiple denominations to prepare their pastors and other church leaders in the mid-Atlantic region and beyond. The History & Hope series will feature lectures by leading representatives of the denominations and traditions RTS Washington most frequently serves. These speakers will highlight their denomination's confession and character, history and hopes for the future.

Please join us to learn about how RTS is serving the future of your denomination. Local church members along with RTS alumni and students are all welcome as we reflect on our shared love for Christ's church and hope for its growth in Washington, D.C., and around the world.

Learn more about RTS
Washington celebrating 30 years of serving the church:
www.rtsdc30.com

Lecture schedule on reverse

RTS Washington 30th Anniversary History & Hope Church Lecture Series 2024 -2025

Friday, Sept. 20

John Muether on the Orthodox Presbyterian Church

Introduction by Peter Lee

*Grace Presbyterian Church
Vienna, VA*

Wednesday, Oct. 9

S. Donald Fortson, III on the Evangelical Presbyterian Church

Introduction by Scott Redd

*Fourth Presbyterian Church
Bethesda, MD*

Monday, Nov. 18

Mark Dever on Reformed Theology in the Baptist Tradition

Introduction by Mike McKinley

*Capitol Hill Baptist Church
Washington, D.C.*

Tuesday, Jan. 7

Sean Lucas on the Presbyterian Church in America

Introduction by Irwyn Ince

*McLean Presbyterian Church
McLean, VA*

Tuesday, February 4

Sam Ferguson on Reformed Theology & the Anglican Tradition

Introduction by Scott Redd

The Falls Church Anglican Falls Church, VA

Follow the link to learn more about these lectures and to register:
www.rtsdcevents.com/historyandhope

